The Most Holy Trinity

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Fr. Boniface left last week for our province's quadrennial chapter leaving me in charge. My first official act has been to also disappear. I am visiting my family and will return later this week. You have been left in the capable hands of two visiting priests, Fr. Innocent Smith, O.P. and Fr. Bartholomew Calvano, O.P., and of course our new NYU chaplain, Fr. Isaiah.

Fr. Innocent is a professor of homiletics at St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore. He was a classmate of Fr. Boniface. Fr. Bartholomew was ordained a priest on May 21st, along with our summer deacon from last year, Fr. James Ritch. Fr. Bartholomew remains a student at the Dominican House of Studies and will return to Washington after helping us this summer.

Last week, Pentecost brought the Easter Season to fiery end, but we are not ready to go back to normal just yet. Today is Trinity Sunday. Historically, Trinity Sunday was the octave (or eighth) day of Pentecost. The feast remains even though Pentecost has been cut back to single day on the new calendar.

While as a concept, the Trinity is abstract, a theological account of how God can be One and also Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, I see it as a celebration of God's friendship. It is only because of God's self-revelation that we know him as Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. It is because Jesus Christ raised us up to the level of friendship with God that we know him with this level of intimacy, that we are able to name him in this way. The Trinity marks our identity as Christians. It is in the name of the Trinity that we are baptized, and it is in this name that we begin our Masses and our prayers.

The special days continue next week as we celebrate the Body and Blood of Christ, or Corpus Christi. The 11:30 Mass on June 19th will conclude with a Eucharist procession. Processions are a traditional way of extending the worship of Christ in the Eucharist throughout the neighborhood.

In Christ,

Fr. Clement Dickie, O.P.
Parochial Vicar

THE MOST HOLY TRINITY

First Reading: Proverbs 8:22-31

God created Wisdom before he created the earth or the skies. This spirit stood beside God every day until the earth was complete, then "found delight in the people of the earth." This indicates that the spirit of wisdom was later personified by Jesus.

Second Reading: Romans 5:1-5

Paul says that we are now at peace with God through our faith in Jesus. We also hope to see the glory of God. This hope will not leave us disappointed because of the love God has shown in sending us the Holy Spirit.

Gospel: John 16:12-15

Jesus tells the disciples that when he leaves them, a Spirit will help guide them to the truth. This Spirit will announce what he hears from Jesus, rather than speaking on his own. Everything God has also belongs to Jesus, which is why those things announced by the Spirit will actually come from Jesus.

Second Collection Church in Latin America and Home Mission Appeal June 11th -June 12th

Please note this is a combined Second Collection

The collection for the Church in Latin America will assist 25 countries in Central and South America to help confront the challenges to the faith.

The collection for Home Missions Appeal will help with the challenges that many dioceses face here at home due to priest shortage, lack of funds, or impoverished parishes.

Timothy Michael Cardinal Dolan reminds us that your support of these collections is vital.
